The Rutgers School of Business–Camden

MASTER of BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM
The Master of Business Administration (MBA) program at Rutgers School of Business–Camden is designed to provide students with a broad professional education in business administration that prepares them for the increasingly complex demands of management. The Rutgers–Camden MBA gives students an appreciation of the entire enterprise as well as the basic functions of business, such as accounting, finance, management, marketing, MIS/ecommerce, operations management, entrepreneurship, international business, and policy and strategy. Additionally, students have the opportunity to concentrate in a specific area of interest by taking elective courses in accounting, entrepreneurship, finance, human resource management, international business/operations management, management, and marketing. Graduates of the program typically seek employment with industrial and service businesses, government, and nonprofit organizations.

Program Highlights

- World-class Rutgers faculty

HOW TO APPLY

Applicants to the Rutgers–Camden MBA program are required to provide the following:

• An online application (Program code: 53135)
• Application fee
• Original undergraduate and graduate transcripts
• A personal statement
• Two letters of recommendation
• GMAT or GRE (Standardized Test Exemption for JD, MD & PhD)
• A current résumé

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to the MBA program is made for the fall, spring, or summer semester. Applicants to the program should have completed their baccalaureate degree prior to beginning their graduate program. Admission to the MBA program is based on evidence of each candidate’s ability, aptitude, and potential for success in the program. The associate dean of graduate studies and the admissions committee review the applicant’s undergraduate transcripts, Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT) score, or the Graduate Record Exam (GRE), letters of recommendation, résumé, and personal statement of career objectives. The candidate’s history of leadership and management experience also are evaluated.

“As an executive, I found many of the things that I learned applicable to my responsibilities in my position, plus courses that interested me beyond pure academics.”
