The Rutgers School of Business–Camden

Assistant Professor of Operations Management/Supply Chain Management

The School of Business at Rutgers University-Camden seeks applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in Operations Management/Supply Chain Management starting Fall 2013. Candidates must show evidence (or strong potential) of quality scholarly research and a good teaching record. Applicants should have earned a PhD or be completing his/her PhD in the designated field. The successful candidate will be expected to teach operations management related courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The position may require some teaching at off-campus locations of the University. Salary and research support are competitive. This position is subject to budget and academic approval.

The Rutgers -Camden campus is located in southern New Jersey just across the Delaware River from Philadelphia, with easy access to Atlantic City, New York, and Washington D.C. The campus serves over 6500 students in undergraduate, graduate and PhD programs.

Application materials including vita, sample research papers, and teaching ratings should be submitted to omscmapp@camden.rutgers.edu or Search Committee, Attn: Mr. Jeffrey Sukosky (OM/SCM Position), School of Business, Rutgers University, 227 Penn Street, Camden, NJ 08102. Screening will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Rutgers University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer, and committed to diversity among faculty. Women, under-represented minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities are especially encouraged to apply.